Reading	Math	Science	Writing	Specials	Social Studies
Fort Reading- build a blanket fort and read for 20 minutes.	Measure your room/bed/table etc... and find the area/perimeter —what would be the best unit of measurement?	Fossil Writing: Write a story from the point of view of the fossil. The "main character" (the fossil) should describe what it was like to be fossilized. Use quotation marks and be creative.	Read half of a book and write the ending on your own.	Research a famous artist (Picasso, Van Gough, Monet, Salvador Dali, Georgia O'Keeffe) and recreate their style in your own work.	Make a collage of the Idaho symbols.
Listen to an Audiobook (Audible, Epic, Overdrive, YouTube, etc.).	Write 5 division, and 5 multiplication equations and solve them.	Song/Poem: Create your own song/poem about the rock cycle. Write the lyrics/stanzas on a piece of paper.	Write 10 interview questions and interview someone in your family.	Spring into Action: Find someone to do 20 jumping jacks with you.	Check out this website: adventureinfamilyhood.com Write a short paragraph about your field trip.
Read a nonfiction article (print or online) and write down 3 things you learned.	Write 5 equations showing equivalent fractions.	Count electrical outlets in your house. How many are there?	Write an opinion on whether you think schools should be closed?	Listen to Clementine, or a song of your choice (if you are unable to access Clementine audio file) and answer the following questions: What is the story that the words are telling you? What volume, tempo, and instruments do you hear? How does it make you feel?	Draw a map of one level of your house. Label each room and mark the sides of your house as North, East, South, and West (cardinal directions). Remember that the Lewiston Hill is north of us.
